

top 10 reasons to join the DHS yearbook 2012-2013

10. Yearbook counts as a practical art.
9. There are pizza parties after every deadline.
8. You can have your choice of working as a photographer, writer, or layout designer.
7. Yearbook gives you experience in marketing, sales, and advertising.
6. You'll learn a multitude of universal skills, like how to use computers and conduct interviews.
5. Yearbook looks REALLY good on college and job applications.
4. You'll learn leadership and teamwork skills.
3. Yearbook allows you to broaden your expertise in the fields of photography, writing, and design.
2. You'll be working on a nationally-recognized yearbook.
1. You'll get the opportunity to meet new people, get involved with your school, and decide what goes into the yearbook.

We're looking for dedicated students with experience or interest in the fields of photography, writing, and page design. Students must work well on a team and be flexible, but don't necessarily need to have yearbook experience. Applicants must fill out an application in addition to attending an interview. Applications are available online at <http://dhsyearbook.wordpress.com/> and are due on Tues., Feb. 28 (junior high) and Fri, March 2 (high school).

Still not sure if yearbook's right for you? Email our adviser at kthomsen@djud.net, message an editor at dhsyearbook12@gmail.com, or join us on Facebook! <https://www.facebook.com/groups/308622749178872/>
